

Ben TEH
1941 – 1998

Ben Teh was born in Malaysia in 1941, obtaining his MBBS from the University of Sydney in 1966. He obtained his FRACS admission in 1975.

Ben did his surgical training at Canterbury District Hospital and the Royal Perth Hospital between 1967 - 1975 and his plastic surgical training in the Regional Plastic Surgery Unit of St Andrews Hospital between 1974 and 1979.

He published on 'Why Do Grafts Fail' in a prize winning essay in 1976, subsequently published in Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in 1977.